Yes we can confirm 12:45 briefing at Durango command center. And we will organize conference room from 1:45-4.

I will confirm POC and room locations and get back.

Hi All,

As Matt mentioned below, we are looking for help locking in details for the Administrator's schedule tomorrow and Thursday. We specifically will need help confirming logistics at each of the Command Center locations. I've included what we will need for each site, please advise if you will be able to assist with these details.

Thank so much,

Kate

Durango, CO, Wednesday August 12th:

- We would like to confirm a briefing at the Durango Command Center from 12:45-1:45 PM.

- We will need to secure a conference room at the Durango Command Center from 1:45 PM- 4:00 PM. Please advise if you will be able to reserve this space for us, or if you can share a POC we can reach out to.

Farmington, NM, Thursday August 13th:

- We would like to confirm a briefing at the Farmington Command Center from 11:00 AM- 11:45 AM.

- We will need to secure a conference room at the Farmington Command Center from 11:45 AM- 2:00 PM. Please advise if you will be able to reserve this space for us, or please share a POC we can contact.

Importance: High

This is a go.

She will be departing this evening at approximately 7:30 PM and arriving in Denver at some hour this evening (Kate is better with these details than I am.)

The sketch is pretty close to what we will try to do.

Wednesday AM – meet with the Governor in Denver

Fly to Durango

Arrive around 12:30

Proceed to the Unified Command Center

Participate in a series of briefings: incident command update/delegation/state local and tribes

Press availability

Depart for New Mexico by automobile.

Arrive early evening.

Possible catch-up with Congressman Lujan

Overnight in Farmington area

Thursday AM – no particular order

Visit the command set up in Farmington

Participate in briefings with federal team/Congressional delegation/state and locals/tribes

Visit to Shiprock and Navajo tribal members

Press availability

Depart

This is still in the process of being developed – but please keep preparing for a visit with materials.

One suggested alteration for NM – in addition to stopping in Farmington, to fully engage with the Navajo tribal members I suggest adding a 30 minute ride to Shiprock.

Subject: upcoming travel - assistance

Good morning everyone,

This is in the very preliminary stages of development.

We need your assistance.

Plans to have the Administrator travel to the four corners are still being contemplated.

However, if she travels here is a sketch of what it might look like:

Travel to Denver this evening

Meet with Governor Hickenlooper in Denver early in the morning

Board a flight to Durango around 11:00 AM

Arrive in Durango around 12:15 PM

Visit the Unified Command center – meet with and get briefed by the Incident Commander

Have a separate meeting with the Colorado Congressional Delegation

Meet with the State/Local/Tribal representatives at the Command Center

Hold a press availability at some juncture

Travel late that afternoon to Farmington, NM and overnight.

Visit the satellite Unified Command center in New Mexico – get a briefing there (need to figure out who does that)

Meet with the NM Congressional Delegation

Meet with State/Local/Tribal representatives and/or set up a separate meeting with the Navajo

Hold a press availability at some juncture

We need your help fleshing out these concepts. Do not share widely – since this travel has not been confirmed. We will need appropriate prep or briefing materials for these possible interactions – situational updates, an update on what we have “stood” up in the Unified

Command, what services we are providing – from water to assisting with claims, basic stats on our response – staffing, etc., a break-out as to who is represented within the Incident Command structure (state partners, federal partners, tribes, local, etc.), thoughts and approaches for downriver – what is in place for addressing concerns associated with Lake Powell, for example.

Please begin working on this now. All of this information will be helpful regardless if there is a visit or not.
